Report of Board of Education

To the Citizens of Littleton:

We herewith submit the annual school report. The report includes treasurer's report for the fiscal year July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1938 with an itemized statement of expenditures for that year; the budget for the present school year and for the next year; statement of estimated receipts for these two years; and written reports by the superintendent of schools and by the headmaster of the high school.

The estimated deficit next June 30 is $1,800.00. The budget for next year is $67,971.00. The sum of these amounts is $69,771.00. The probable receipts from sources other than taxation are about $3,850.00. An appropriation of $65,000.00 is necessary for the operation of the schools next year. We recommend that the district raise the sum of $65,000.00.

Respectfully submitted,
George A. Tewksbury

Superintendent's Report

To the School Board:

I herewith submit the following report relative to your schools:

Attendance statistics should command your careful study. The enrollment by grades for the present school year and the total enrollment 1928-1939 and the high school enrollment for the same period follow:

Grade I	II	III	IV	V	VI	VII	VIII
61	68	55	59	54	59	64	51
Grade IX	X	XI	XII	P. G.	Total
88	65	56	41	2	723

A comparison for twelve years shows the total enrollment:
1928 1929 1930 1931 1932 1933 1934 1935 1936 1937 1938 1939
631 657 687 712 697 719 708 719 736 739 692 723
and the high school enrollment:

1928	1929	1930	1931	1932	1933	1934	1935	1936	1937	1938	1939
176	182	192	223	227	233	227	230	263	265	243	252

The enrollment in the high school building is 332 this year, in the Kilburn school 231, and in the Apthorp school 160. In last year's report I called your attention to the fact that the total enrollment was definitely less than for several years and predicted that a slightly lower plateau had been reached. That prediction does not appear correct. The total enrollment this year is the largest it has been for twelve years with two exceptions. The high school enrollment presents the same picture. The senior high school rooms have a rated capacity of 245. The enrollment is 252 and the present membership (January) is 241. The prospects for a larger senior high school are indicated by a glance at the enrollment by grades. The senior class this year numbers 41 and the entering class next year will be approximately 80. Allowing for the usual loss of pupils from this date to the opening of school in September, the senior high enrollment will be the largest in the history of the school. The picture will be about like this. When all pupils have been assigned to their rooms in September all classrooms will have every seat occupied and the room designated as the study hall will have 64 pupils in it. This room has 50 pupil desks in it. With additional chairs it should never have more than 70 pupils. During some class periods the room must have 75 or more, and some pupils not in class must be assigned to rooms where class recitations are in progress. This situation is not conducive to the best school work.

The above facts compel me to call to your attention a recommendation for additional housing made in a previous report and discussed at several board meetings. The least expensive provision for more pupil room can doubtless be made by the construction of a wing to the Kilburn building, towards the high school building, equal in length to the one already built towards Oak Hill Avenue. This could be three stories in height, providing much needed space in a basement room for additional mechanic arts classes, a classroom on the ground floor for the seventh grade now housed in the high school building, thereby leaving room for forty high school pupils, and providing with some corridor space on the second floor a small auditorium for the accommodation of Kilburn pupils. Three purposes would be served by this addition to the Kilburn building—shop space for the boys in mechanic arts, classroom space for one group now in the high school building, and assembly privileges for Kilburn pupils in groups of three grades. This addition can probably be built and equipped for $10,000.00. Notes or bonds spread over a period of years would not make a heavy burden of expense during any one year. The project should be carefully considered in the near future.

The classes in practical arts subjects have been gradually increasing in size, probably somewhat in excess of the proportional increase in school enrollment. Of the 88 pupils enrolled in the ninth grade (freshman class) this year 34 boys elected woodworking, 30 girls elected the home economics course of study, and 31 began the study of bookkeeping. Previous to this year the work of the mechanic arts course has extended through the eleventh grade. The woodworking classes of high and junior high grades have been too heavy a load for one person for several years and other teachers have assisted with the mechanical drawing. The plan has not been entirely satisfactory as the drawing should be closely related to the practical shop work. This year the work of the eleventh grade has been dropped and Mr. Welch has all of the woodworking of the other grades. He teaches every class period of the week and has not enough time to give the pupils on their individual projects in some groups. He has a total enrollment of 134 pupils in this department.

In the home economics department more progress has been made. The course extends through the high school grades. One teacher gives full time and one teacher gives half the day to the classes in this department. The groups are about the same in size as those in woodworking and the number of groups is the same. An additional part-time teacher is necessary in order to offer the subject matter of grades eleven and twelve in woodworking.

This year for the first time Federal Vocational Aid for the home economics work in grades nine and ten was sought. The subject matter requirements of the George-Deen Act are practically the same as our own state program, the time standards slightly greater, and home projects required of pupils more exacting. With the teacher time available the standards are being met and the financial assistance to be received will help reduce the operating expenses of that department. The amount of the aid will be approximately $600.00. Whether the work under the Federal plan can be extended through grades eleven and twelve and the time standards met has not been definitely determined. The work of this department is of a very high grade. The subject matter is of great practical value to all girls.

Federal aid is likewise available for courses in mechanic arts in all grades of senior high school. The cost of equipment to do well the different units of work is greater than in home economics. At present the department hasn't the space, nor equipment, nor teacher time to qualify under the Federal plan. The additional teacher time can probably be provided from Federal funds by the adoption of that program whenever the district is able to provide the necessary room and equipment. With fifty per cent more pupils in high school than twelve years ago, only a small number of whom will enter college, vocational courses and avocational courses are essential.

The State Board of Education is soon to recommend the introduction of courses in arts and crafts and suggest outlines for same. It will give a credential to any approved high school teacher to teach same who takes the preparatory courses offered at Keene next summer. If the extension of the mechanic arts courses is not possible at this time selected units from the arts and crafts program to constitute one unit course might be advisable as an offering to those boys who have completed the woodworking of the tenth grade.

A program in safety education has recently been published by the State Board of Education and is now in the hands of all teachers. Safety is taught in connection with other subjects in all grades. A series of safety readers has been purchased for the first six grades. In science, social science, health, and physical education classes opportunity is found for safety instruction in the higher grades. A special non-unit, automobile driver's course is being offered for the benefit of seniors and juniors who will have reached the age of sixteen during the school year. The school is indebted to many townspeople for cooperation in making this course of practical value.

A committee of the Educational Council is working with the office of the State Board of Education in the revision of the whole program in social science in grades seven to twelve. The recommended courses of this committee will be worthy of thoughtful consideration. Some revision of our social science program is advisable.

The report of the medical inspection and of remedial health work follows:

Defects	No. of pupils affected	Pupils receiving treatment	Number defects corrected	Inspection September 1938

Miss Bryant and Dr. Page have continued their splendid work of former years for health improvement. Seventy-seven have received dental treatment, 22 pupils have had eyes examined for glasses, and 10 throat operations have been performed. Milk has been furnished underweight pupils during the winter months and a hot noon lunch has been provided for some. The Nursing Association, the Salvation Army and American Legion Post have contributed to the necessary fund for this health work.

The high school activities of former years have been continued. The interscholastic activities include football, basketball, baseball, winter sports, and music. The girls' physical education classes under the direction of Miss Tewksbury have been increasingly appreciated and valuable. Mr. Stonier has devoted many hours after school and on Saturday to teaching basketball and gymnasium games to the boys of junior high age from all of the schools. Mr. Wentworth has combined his orchestras from five schools for a concert program each spring. Mrs. Cushing has had a large delegation of pupils at the State Interscholastic Music Festival for several years. This year the senior high school glee club and a newly formed a cappella choir of 30 members will go to Concord for the State meet. Many worthwhile assemblies have been held. A new motion picture machine has been added to the school equipment. This machine can be used for both sound and silent films. It is used for high school and elementary grades.

Only one change has occurred in the teaching staff. Last June Mr. Westly J. Nelson was elected headmaster. Mr. Nelson has been very successful in the organization and management of the school. He has made a fine impression with pupils, teachers and townspeople. Last summer nine of your teachers attended summer school, Miss Heald travelled and studied in France, and two were at the N. H. Nature Camp at Lost River. I consider the teachers earnest and efficient in their work. Their progressive effort and their success in classroom work testify to the value of your teachers' salary schedule. A fairly stable corps of well-trained, capable teachers is the most essential consideration for good schools.

Several items of repair of considerable expense were necessary last summer. The Kilburn building was shingled. Extensive repair work to the roof of the high school building was done. The science rooms, office, boys' and girls' locker rooms, and toilets in the high school building were painted. The boiler in the Kilburn building was covered with magnesium blocks, and new valves were placed on all radiators in this building. Floors in the Apthorp building were all treated with seal and wax, and two floors in the high school building were sanded and treated. Many new window shades were necessary in the high school and Apthorp buildings. These and the usual minor repairs will total about $2,500.00.

The motion picture machine mentioned above was purchased for the high school building, and new pupil furniture for two rooms in the Apthorp building was purchased.

For the past two years I have recommended for your consideration alterations in the Apthorp building to provide auditorium space for the accommodation of all pupils. The two unused rooms on the second floor and the corridor between them would make a room about 69' x 30'. This would accommodate 200 persons or more—large enough for school assemblies and for community programs. The alterations and equipment would probably cost less than $2,000.00.

The school year closing last June 30 showed a net deficit of $387.35. The treasurer had borrowed from this year's appropriation to pay current bills $1,500.00. The bills due the district and the treasury balance totaled $1,112.65. Last year the appropriation was $64,000.00, the smallest for several years. Building repair needs discovered during the summer, not planned for, made the expenditures this year somewhat greater than anticipated. The deficit at the close of the present school year may be as much as $1,800.00. The proposed budget is $67,971.00. An appropriation of $65,000.-00 is necessary if this budget is to be accepted.

The high school building bonds now amount to $56,000.00. The bond issue demands payment of $8,000.00 and interest each year. In seven years these bonds will be retired. The school district has no other indebtedness, save the deficit in current operation mentioned above. The school buildings have been maintained in good condition. The school budget has carried annually for several years, an estimated 1%, $2,000.00, for repairs and improvements of buildings, and $700.00 for insurance. The insurance item is approximately one-fifth of the total insurance premiums, policies written on five year terms.

An appropriation of $65,000.00 is necessary to continue the program of building maintenance, retirement of bonds, and payment of the current expense of operation of the schools. In all comparative data Littleton's expenditures have not been high. Last year's financial reports show that the average cost per pupil for instruction (salaries, books, supplies and other items of expense for instruction) in Littleton High School was $76.80 while the average for the state was $79.17. The total cost per pupil in high school here was $100.07 while the median for the state was $105.33. In the elementary grades the cost per pupil in Littleton was $75.58 while the median for the state was $79.98. The cost per thousand dollars of equalized valuation (current expenses) was $9.61. Littleton was the 76th district from lowest to highest of the 241 in the state in this table.

Again, I wish to express my appreciation of your cooperation in all of my efforts for the improvement of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,
Dana S. Jordan

Headmaster's Report

To the Superintendent of Schools:

It is with genuine pleasure that I present to you this, my first report as headmaster of Littleton High School. This duty becomes even more pleasant when the report can be prefaced by a statement that the work of the school is proceeding in an orderly and efficient manner, a condition largely made possible by the faithful cooperation of parents, pupils, and school officials.

This report for the most part covers only the first half of the current school year, and in its general nature and make-up must from necessity be in the language of physical and concrete values. It is comparatively easy to write the record of any school in this language, but comparatively hard to do so in terms of educational values that make for a happier and more worthwhile future for those who attend. However, as I have observed the daily life in our school, I am convinced that achievement in this field is real, and that later, when these values can be measured in terms of successful and happy lives of its graduates, Littleton High School will not be found wanting.

REGISTRATION

One of the results of the present difficult economic conditions is an increase in the enrollment in our public high schools. Young people who would not be in school during normal times are continuing their education, either because they cannot find employment or because they realize now, as never before, that adequate and careful preparation is necessary for future success. Our high school is no exception to this tendency for the registration, with one exception, is the highest in recent years, 332. Of this number 32 are non-resident pupils.

CURRICULUM

It is folly to believe that the economic changes of the past few years have not left their imprint upon our schools. It is worse, however, to believe that many of these imprints, both good and bad, will not remain as permanent factors of our educational system. What they are, or what they should be, is a story in itself and has no place in this report. Yet, in the educational house cleaning of the past few years, one factor stands out clearly: namely, that the school must be adjusted to fit the pupil, and not the pupil deformed to fit the school.

In adopting the "core curriculum" with only English and U. S. Constitutional History as compulsory subjects, our school has made definite advancement in the right direction. In spite of this fact, however, some pupils find themselves registered in courses which to them have little value. Two factors undoubtedly cause this condition.

First, there exists the lack of definite objectives or plans upon the part of the pupil. Correct choice of subjects at the beginning of the year is of fundamental importance, and parents, pupils and teachers should unite to accomplish this end. In August, over ninety homes were visited for this purpose, and I feel that much good resulted from such conferences.

Secondly, the curriculum either does not contain the desired courses, or these courses are so over-crowded that the most efficient results cannot be obtained.

It is my opinion that few schools of equal size have a wider range of subjects than ours, yet during the current year we find a serious over-crowded condition in the industrial arts department. At the beginning of the year, it became necessary, because of lack of teaching time, to drop the third year of this course. Machines and room have acted as factors also in limiting the number who can take this course in the Freshman and sophomore years.

There is a large increase likewise in the home economics department with approximately 175 girls receiving training, 90 of whom are in the senior high school. So far, facilities have permitted this increase without any serious detriment, but further increase would mean the limiting of the number who could register in this department.

For the first time the ninth and tenth grade courses are Federally aided, and it is hoped that it will be possible to extend this aid next year to include the eleventh grade. To meet the additional requirements of this plan the teacher, Mrs. Hogan, makes visits to 60 homes, supervises four separate home projects for each girl during the year, carries on an individual daily conference schedule, and will conduct in the spring a special public exhibit of the work of these classes.

In addition to the regular courses given in our junior and senior high schools, the industrial arts department, and the home economics department give courses to the pupils of the seventh and eighth grade of the St. Rose of Lima School for four periods per week, and to the seventh and eighth grades of the Aphthorp school for two periods per week.

DAILY TIME-TABLE

The length of the school day has not been changed appreciably although there has been a revision of the length of periods. Sixty minute periods can be used more economically in laboratory courses than a combination of two shorter periods. To take advantage of this fact our school day has been divided into three sixty minute periods and three forty minute periods with a twenty minute activity period coming at the end of the afternoon session. This arrangement has assisted also in permitting a more efficient grouping of study pupils in rooms where recitations and class work are not taking place.

Two "opportunity periods" are scheduled daily. Each one is thirty minutes in length. One comes during the noon recess to accommodate those pupils who come on school busses, the other follows the close of the afternoon session. These periods afford opportunity for pupils to study for make-up work.

TEACHING STAFF

It is a source of satisfaction to all interested in our high school to realize that it is staffed with a group of experienced teachers who are efficient classroom instructors as well as enthusiastic and capable leaders in the extra-curricular activities. It would be unfair not to mention at this point also, the conscientious and efficient service rendered by Vernon G. West. The splendid high school plant with its superior care is a challenge to any institution of its kind.

Many of the permanent and special school activities are organized and directed through the medium of teacher committees. Evening teacher meetings, sponsoring worthwhile educational programs, are held several times each term. Monday afternoon, following the school session, is reserved each week for business devoted directly to school matters.

SCHOLARSHIP

Through the medium of teacher guidance and through the school office a definite effort has been made to inspire good scholarship. It is gratifying to note that marks at the end of the half year showed comparatively few serious failures.

Good scholarship is fundamental and without honest effort to this end, any school must fall far short of its mission. In an analysis of the educational process the mastering of daily lessons becomes of paramount importance. It is the daily tasks well done that bring the happiness and success of the future. For this reason we emphasize the importance of regular home study by every pupil. For creditable work, home study is absolutely necessary.

ATTENDANCE

All parents and pupils should realize the importance of regular attendance. Absences place an additional burden upon both teachers and pupils, and made-up lessons are seldom if ever as effective as the regular class work. Illness of the pupil should be the only acceptable excuse for absence. The maintaining of a reasonable attendance and tardiness average is one of the requirements of an approved high school.

During the first half of the current school year, both our junior and senior high have creditable attendance records as the following table shows:

ATTENDANCE TABLE
Month	Sr. High School	Jr. High School
September	96.3%	96.6%
October	96.4	97.5
November	95.4	97.7
December	95.8	97.0
January	93.3	93.9
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Average for half year	95.8	96.5

The state average for high schools last year was 95.6. The relatively poor attendance during January is accounted for by a rather severe epidemic of colds.

During the period covered by these statistics, 118 tardy marks have been registered, 51 of which were due to school busses being delayed by weather conditions. If these tardinesses are not considered, our rate of tardiness for the half year is approximately .2 tardiness per pupil which is much better than last year's state average of .5 tardiness per pupil per half year.

Pupils who are absent or tardy are required to bring a form-excuse signed by the parent. With few exceptions parents and pupils have helped whole-heartedly in this particular, and the entire attendance record reflects a wholesome cooperation with school officials.

ATHLETICS

Extra curricular activities claim a goodly portion of a pupil's time, and justly so if properly organized and directed.

It is here, more than anywhere else, that the pupil learns the responsibilities of good citizenship, leadership, and sportsmanship.

Of first consideration in the list of student activities are athletics. In this field, Littleton High School sponsors: football, boys' and girls' basketball, baseball, and a winter sports team composed of both boys and girls.

To the teacher and educator, athletics are viewed in the light of the three criteria mentioned above, namely: the presentation of an opportunity to develop citizenship, leadership and sportsmanship. If progress is made in these, if the health and safety of the participants are guarded, and if the program reaches many, and not a few, then athletics from the educational point of view are successful.

In organizing for these objectives it is my sincere conviction that ultimately the most good will not be obtained unless the following practices are effectively carried out:

1. The creation of interest and support by the big majority of the student body.
2. The inauguration of a program that will make athletics self-supporting.
3. The adoption of a policy that will place more responsibility for the direction of athletics in the hands of the pupils themselves, but under the guidance, supervision, and veto power of the faculty.

In accordance with this policy a system of student managership, in which assistant managers are trained for the important role of manager, has been adopted in each sport, the athletic association constitution has been revised and expanded by the senior class in United States Constitutional History, and a drive for membership in the athletic association has been completed.

The result has been most gratifying with the single exception that the athletic association drive fell short of the membership wished. With a nucleus, however, of 128 members, with the encouraging patronage of our contests by the public, and with the substantial assistance by the Board of Education in transportation for out-of-town games, our athletic department is moving towards a sound financial basis.

Handicapped by a decided lack of experienced players, both the current football and basketball seasons have fallen below Littleton High School's usually successful record. However, as this report is being written, our winter sports team is crowning itself with the glory of successful achievement.

Miss Tewksbury is the adviser of the Littleton High School Girls' Athletic Association which has 59 members. This organization has for its slogan "A sport for every girl and every girl in a sport." It is effective in interesting girls to play outside of school.

NON-ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Non-athletic activities, like athletics, present their own opportunities for wholesome recreation and pupil development. Important under this classification are the class organizations each with its own corps of officers and teacher advisers.

"The Record" now in its twenty-seventh year, continues to maintain its high standards of the past. Compiled and edited by a staff of pupils, this magazine furnishes an outlet for pupils in the field of literature, business and art. Miss Hanson and Mr. Glazier serve efficiently as faculty advisers to the literary and business departments respectively.

A rifle club under the direction of Mr. Welch affords its members expert instruction in range work and the proper use of firearms.

During the winter months the home economics department prepares hot lunches at noon. Approximately one hundred cups of soup and cocoa are served daily to the pupils in the high school and the Kilburn school.

Under the direction of Mr. Glazier the advertisements for the official program of the Littleton Outing Club and the Interscholastic Winter Sports Events were gathered and edited by a group of pupils. This project added a substantial sum to the athletic treasury.

It was under Mr. Glazier's guidance also that the annual school census was taken by members of the senior class. The remuneration for this work was added to the senior class funds.

School parties and similar functions afford opportunities for pupil leadership and initiative as well as pleasant social gatherings. These activities are planned carefully and carried out through pupil committees.

In the first half of the present year, the following functions will be remembered for a long time with pleasant recollections:

- The Freshman Reception, sponsored by the seniors
- The senior play "Growing Pains," directed by Miss Heald
- The Christmas Party given by the freshmen
- The Junior Class Supper at the Community House
- The Football Banquet given by the Littleton Rotary Club.

As we enter into the second half of our school year we look forward with anticipation to other activities not the least of which will be our athletic association parties, the North Country Orchestra Concert, the spring operetta, the junior class prom, the junior prize speaking contest, annual stunt night, and a school exhibit.

NON-UNIT COURSES

Our high school offers some really splendid opportunities in organized activity in special fields. Even in institutions much larger than ours, it would be difficult to find higher standards and better results in the field of music.

The various glee club and choir groups directed by Mrs. Cushing, and the high school orchestra and instrumental groups conducted by Mr. Wentworth, speak splendidly for themselves. Each of these instructors spends one day a week at our school, and the large voluntary enrollment of pupils seeking this instruction is in itself adequate proof of its success.

Many of our pupils are fortunate also in being able to have a weekly period of gymnasium work and group games. Under the leadership of Miss Tewksbury five groups of girls from both the senior high school and the junior high school obtain this instruction, while Mr. Stonier supervises two junior high groups of boys in a similar activity.

A course in Automobile Driving is given one period per week. This course, sponsored by the State Board of Education and the State Motor Vehicle Department, was organized for our school by Mr. Glazier, who through the cooperation and interest of our citizens, was successful in securing an unusually fine list of guest speakers and instructors for the various phases of this work.

AIDS TO INSTRUCTION

Miss Trowt, librarian at the Littleton Public Library, has given her service to instruct our pupils in the use of the library. In addition to this she has set aside special shelves where teachers may reserve reference books to be used by pupils of their classes. The school is grateful for this cooperation.

Visual education provides one of the most effective methods of instruction, and Littleton High School is fortunate indeed to possess excellent facilities for the projection of lantern slides, and both silent and sound motion pictures. Advantage has been taken of this, and groups of pupils from a class of twenty up to assemblies of nearly 400 pupils have benefitted therefrom.

Arrangements are being made for conducting groups of pupils through some of our business plants where the various industrial processes will be explained. For the time being these trips will be confined to seniors who wish to take advantage of this opportunity.

NYA

The National Youth Administration program has allotted a budget of $378.00 to our school for the current year. By this program boys and girls who are over sixteen years of age, and who can qualify as needing this aid, are assigned certain work connected with school. The pay for this is furnished from the allotted budget. Twelve pupils have qualified for this work and are receiving monthly pay checks not to exceed the monthly maximum of $6.00.

ASSEMBLIES

Assemblies are held with programs prepared under the direction of a committee of teachers. Advance announcement is given of these events to which parents and friends are cordially invited. Two special assemblies, at which many guests were present, were held during National Education Week in November.

PRIZES AND TROPHIES

Through the generosity of Mr. George H. Tilton cash prizes totalling $105.00 are to be awarded annually to pupils of Littleton High School who excel in various fields of scholastic activity.

Through the courtesy of the Gunthwaite Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Lisbon, Miss Esther White '39, was chosen to represent Littleton High School at the state meeting in Concord on February 18. At this gathering of candidates from schools all over our state one girl will be selected to represent New Hampshire on the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage to Washington.

A gold scholarship key has been received from a business college. This award is to be given to the senior excelling in the commercial subjects.

For all of these awards we are most grateful.

By its third consecutive victory over all other teams our Winter Sports team has gained permanent possession of the Lisbon Board of Trade meet trophy, and has won also the Woodsville winter carnival trophy.

During the current year we have received the delayed White Mountain Conference championship football trophy won by our 1937 undefeated team. Adequate funds are now on hand for the building of a trophy cabinet, plans for which are being made by our industrial arts department.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

Dr. Page, school physician, and Miss Bryant, school nurse, have completed the physical examination of all pupils, and parents have been notified concerning any deficiencies found. A special examination was given to all those who took part in either football or basketball.

CONCLUSION

I am certain that both teachers and pupils join me in an expression of sincere appreciation and thanks to the many parents and persons outside of the active high school sphere, who have aided us and cooperated with us so generously. To this I would add my personal gratitude for the same splendid spirit of loyalty that has been given me by those with whom I work—members of the board of education, superintendent of schools, members of our teaching staff and the student body. I have been most happy in serving you.

Respectfully submitted,
Westly J. Nelson

To the Board of Trustees of the Littleton Public Library, the annual report of the Librarian is herewith submitted:

To the casual user the library has not changed greatly in the past year, but in summing up the year's work these trends are revealed. The circulation, after dropping last year, rose to the level of the two previous years. The use of the children's room continued to grow. The completion of such technical projects as weeding out obsolete books, recataloging, cleaning and re-lettering old books, has made it easier to locate desired information and books more quickly.

The appearance of the main floor of the building was greatly improved last spring when long needed repairs were made. Three ceilings and the stairway walls were replastered, then the walls in the reading room, the reference room, the children's room, the hall and stairway were redecorated in cream color, which gives a lighter and pleasing effect. This extensive work made repairs a large item in our budget; we were fortunate to suffer only slight hurricane damages.

For several years the work of recataloging the book collection has been going on, subject to the time the librarian could devote to this extra work and such outside help as the CWA furnished or the library could afford to pay for. This year we have been able to complete the cataloging of the non-fiction. A large number of obsolete books which were occupying valuable shelf space were discarded. Under supervision a WPA helper cataloged and shelf-listed the fiction, so that the card catalog is now an accurate key to the book resources of the library. Our shelf-list record of books is likewise completed, so we have an accurate inventory of books owned by the library. Sets of printed catalog cards suited to the needs of small libraries are now available, and the use of these is proving economical and time-saving. Service to the public is the library's function, and any means of reducing techniques and library routine to a minimum should be utilized, but good service requires tools such as a workable catalog of the book collection.

The activity in the Children's Room after school is one indication of how the library serves the children of the town. We try to cooperate with the schools as closely as possible, in part by helping pupils as they come to the library, and also by loaning collections of books for classroom use. In the past year partial records show that 219 books were loaned to the Apthorp School. These books were used in the classrooms and also circulated 485 times from there for home reading. The Children's book collection is hardly equal to the demands made upon it. A richer and more extensive supply of books would be well used.

At the beginning of the school year several high school classes came to the library for instruction in the use of reference books and the catalog. We should like to develop the ability of our readers to use all the facilities at their disposal; we are able to make a start with the high school students.

Children's Book Week was observed with special displays of new books, book talks in the schools by the librarian, and two story hours at the library. A number of children enjoyed the story hours held during the summer. This activity is an excellent way of introducing stories new to the boys and girls and of developing a taste for the best in books; more story telling is planned for school and summer vacations.

The librarian has been able to devote time to the activities mentioned above, because we were assigned a WPA worker for nine months. She could assume some of the routine work of typing and filing. Through this assistance many old books have been cleaned, re-lettered and shellacked, an inventory of the shelves taken, the library has been open Thursday morning as well as Tuesday. In July the library paid the expenses of this worker to attend the Library Institute conducted by the Public Library Commission.

Early in December an exhibition of woodcuts and etchings by the American Artists Group was held. Enough interest was shown to warrant holding more exhibitions from time to time, and several are now scheduled. This is one direction in which the library can extend its cultural and educational interests. It might also foster greater interest in music by building up a collection of music scores.

The library has received gifts of books and magazines, as the statistical summary which follows shows. Others have given flowers, and chairs for the reading nook on the stairway landing. We appreciate the interest in the library which these gifts demonstrated.

The future seems to hold many possibilities for the usefulness of libraries to every citizen. In a civilization growing daily more complex people need the best thought expressed in books to guide them. The public library is an agency for education, culture, scholarship, and recreation. To give the fullest service it must be adequately supported. Littleton does as well as the average New Hampshire town of its size when the library has a per capita income of 89 cents, but it has not yet achieved the standard of one dollar per capita, which is generally considered by authorities as the least financial support on which adequate library service can operate in the long run. Our greatest need at the present is more funds for books, but within a few years some new arrangement for book stacks will be necessary to replace the unadjustable wooden ones now in use.

In closing my first annual report I should like to thank the staff, the trustees, and the townspeople for their interest and cooperation during this year.

Eleanor Trowt
